Benefits for IAARC member organizations:

- Networking and learning
  - o Networking with world class construction technology innovators in industry and academia
  - o Learning about state-of-the-art technology, new trends, worldwide research projects and ideas, and developments in a rapidly changing construction industry
  - o Accessing the latest IAARC information and all ISARC annual conference proceedings free of charge (ISARC is held since 1984!)
- Recruiting
  - o Opportunities to recruit, mentor, and/or attract young people in an international environment
- Research opportunities
  - o Join or initiate multidisciplinary international and funded research projects (e.g., “Horizon 2020”, The EU Framework Programme for Research and Innovation).
- Advertising and recognition
  - o Showing your company logo, name, and web link in a special member section on IAARC's website (for the duration of your membership)
  - o Provide a featured article on your organization for the IAARC newsletter that is sent to more than 500 recipients in the IAARC community
- Membership in the IAARC Board of Directors (BOD)
  - o Propose one active member from your organization for one seat in the prestigious IAARC Board of Directors (BOD) for the duration of your membership. The BOD membership entitles your organization to engage with experts, identify research needs, or steer future research needs.
- Representation at the international ISARC annual conference
  - o Participate in the annual meetings (ISARC conferences), regional meetings, educational programs, and workshops
  - o Be featured in an ISARC speaker slot (i.e., in an industry session).
  - o Engage the IAARC Board of Directors (BOD) with a presentation on your organization, its mission, and vision during one of the ISARC BOD meetings and BOD dinners
  - o Benefit from personal meeting with the BOD and its contacts
- Further opportunities exist that can be discussed in detail with the IAARC President, IAARC Vice-President for Industry Membership and Outreach, and the local ISARC organizers, for example:
  - o Acquisition of exhibition space or industry stand or booth at an ISARC
  - o Name and award best paper or other available IAARC/ISARC awards
  - o Sponsorship of prizes and giveaways
  - o Organization of field trips and technical sightseeing tours
